New companies joining the AREA m styria will quickly profit from all these advantages. Because they are supported in every way from their business setups. Project Funding, help in tackling official matters and acquiring permits, providing personal and well-based counselling - with the help of one single partner who is familiar with all the local procedures and who is prepared to promote new initiatives. Welcome in the AREA m styria.

AREA m styria offers investors and companies interested in the region professionally organized information, consulting and coaching services on site.

Our competent office staff will answer all of your questions concerning selecting a location, infrastructure, costs, financing and subsidies, project approval and procedures management, research and development facilities, industrial partners and topical networks. Contacts can be made quickly to guide you through the official channels efficiently.

Working in close cooperation with the Styrian Economic Enhancement Society, federal facilities, technology exchange offices and experts in each field we can help you work out your individual solution on investment financing, subsidizing research and development projects along with any consulting and cooperation needs you might have.

This can markedly reduce the time you need for putting your investment to work. And as we all know: Time is money. You as an investor can devote your time and concentration to making your project a success.
